Quotes, attributable to T3 Expo Eventgineer, Nate Derby

"From offering services that efficiently and economically manage shipping, logistical and electrical needs, to creating an innovative pricing model and designing new products, we are committed to enhancing our customer's complete event experience. Adding Eric enables us to expand our capabilities to include a whole suite of event production options from conception to planning to execution. This along with T3's National reach provides the ammunition we will use to modernize the industry. We continue to expand our offerings and services to deliver what our customer's ultimately want and need, an unforgettable yet cost effective corporate event or tradeshow experience that helps maximize their investment."
